

About

About

Thanks for checking out my website. I've been a photographer since 1999 and have studied acting in college and at the William Esper Studio, so I am very keen to what an actor needs in a headshot.

My clients are working in commercials, theater, film and print. In every session, my goal is to capture your energy, personality and eyes. I work very hard to achieve this by guiding you through the session, helping with makeup, clothing and spending as much time as needed for you to feel comfortable and relaxed. It's really all about YOU! And getting you lots of WORK!

Please check out the frequently asked questions and call to schedule a session or a free consultation.